

THE BAR
AT SOLWAY PARK

Fine Whisky

Selection

Solway Park is named after the Firth of Solway which forms part of the border between England and Scotland, and the 'Solway Spirit' tartan in The Bar originates from this area.

What better way to honour our Scottish namesake than a fine collection of scotch whiskies?

Of course, we have also included some great Irish whiskeys and American bourbons for good measure, one Canadian, and even a little Kiwi dram from the South Island.

The Bar at Solway Park, Fine Whisky Selection – a wee dram of Scottish spirit, an infamous Weka, and some famous Irish and Americans.

Sounds like the beginning of a great tale...

Cover: The 'Solway Spirit' tartan was designed by Lochcarron, and is exclusive to Anderson Kilts of Dumfries. The purple and green represent the colours of the lowland hills and it is intended as a district tartan for the region of Dumfries and Galloway. Anderson Kilts have kindly given their permission for its use in The Bar at Solway Park.

CASK 26.98 - LIVELY AS AN ELECTRIC ACROBAT

60.5% alcohol | Age: 10 | Region: Highland | Cask: 1st fill barrel
Outturn: 231 bottles

This is a very happy and pleasant aperitif-style whisky that hits the spot. It's refreshing, but never light or fleeting. Body & texture are full, and the flavours are delightfully sweet and fruity - perhaps akin to a pleasant verdelho. This Brora distillery overlooks the North Sea.

$19

CASK 55.22 - BACKSTAGE AT A BURLESQUE

54.3% alcohol | Age: 14 | Region: Speyside | Cask: Refill hogshead
Outturn: 113 bottles

This rarely-seen and little-known distillery is very rarely bottled as a single malt as most of its casks go to the Dewars' blends. An official 10yo OB was available in 2004, but that's about all. Our Local Tasting Panel has tasted and rejected a few casks from this distillery over the years, but this one happily pushed our buttons and got us excited. It's great Highland drinking and a 'royal' treat...

CASK 35.88 - VELVETY VANILLA MEETS SEDUCTIVE CITRUS

55.1% alcohol | Age: 17 | Region: Speyside | Cask: 1st fill barrel
Outturn: 233 bottles

The nose had an innocent attractiveness - velvety vanilla (Victoria sponge, custard-filled Danish, milk chews) meets seductive citrus (strawberry lollies, orange sherbet, lemon puffs, lemon sorbet). The palate suggests sugar on grapefruit and some dry, tongue-tingling woodiness. The distillery is near Elgin's 'gallows hill'.

CASK 9.81 - SWEET, SAVOURY & TANGY

59.3% alcohol | Age: 11 | Region: Speyside | Cask: 1st fill barrel
Outturn: 202 bottles

Not a shy or retiring dram, this is big, bright, and it wants your attention. It's complex enough to demand your time (particularly the nose), but fun enough for spontaneity and quaffing. It can happily take a drop of water for those that need to tame the heat, but the general feeling was that this settled down after a brash start and became increasingly attractive... to the point where one panellist concluded "Excessively more-ish"! From Rothes' first distillery.

CASK 4.168 - GUNPOWDER, TREASON AND PLOT

57.0% alcohol | Age: 15 | Region: Island | Cask: Refill sherry gorda
Outturn: 804 bottles

So rich and thick, you need to chew this before swallowing! Super full flavours.... sherry influence with active oak, and glorious smokiness combining for an incredible taste and textural experience. "This is a nose to die for" said one. A dram fit for fireworks celebration on Orkney.

$24

CASK 31.26 - BBQ SMOKE BY A ROLLING SEA

53.6% alcohol | Age: 24 | Region: Island | Cask: Refill hogshead
Outturn: 262 bottles

This distillery sits on the island just next to Islay, and its whiskies often swing between the smoky styles of Islay and the unpeated malts of the mainland. This particular cask - an unusually well aged one for this distillery - has a few years under its belt, but the maritime and peat influence still shines through. A must for west coast enthusiasts! From Jura's only distillery.

$36

CASK 29.120 - SATISFYINGLY
SMOKY AND SWEET

54.7% alcohol | Age: 13 | Region:
Islay | Cask: Refill hogshead
Outturn: 258 bottles

A gently phenolic aroma of antiseptic and washed hospital floors led to bandages, iodine and seaweed. The undertone of sweetness included foam banana sweets, candyfloss and barley sugars. Adding water made it creamier, more oily and brought out maritime aromas – sea spray, beaches – and custard creams’ vanilla. The taste was medicinal with a pleasantly smooth and long finish. This distillery received a Royal Warrant in 1994.

CASK 53.174 – SUMPTUOUS
BARBECUE ON THE MACHAIR

64.2% alcohol | Age: 12 | Region:
Islay | Cask: Refill ex-bourbon
hogshead | Outturn: 297 bottles

An exceptional and elegant dram. Spirit and slightly impetuous at first, it settles down and matures in moments, and then takes you on the most incredible experience. It is both breakfast and dessert in the same glass: Cereal, smoke, sweetness, and nectar. Amazing how it braces and girds you, yet simultaneously soothes and relaxes you. Conflicting concepts that merge seamlessly. Despite the high alcohol, there was no burn or aggression, and none of us could remotely bring ourselves to add water. The distillery commands the narrows between Islay and Jura.
